RSA Cymru Debate
Abergavenny Food Festival

ARE YOU BEING SERVED?

Is big bad? Does small provide us with the right choice and range? Can the supermarket and the small shop coexist in your local Town Centre? Can both survive? Are communities really getting what they want from today's retailers?

Debate chaired by Broadcaster, Sarah Dickins with panellists, Joanna Blythman – Author of “Shopped”, Clive Beddall, Former Editor of The Grocer, David Davies, Local MP and Assembly Member and Paul Davies, Head of Policy at the Civic Trust

5pm, Saturday, 16th September 2006

Tickets £5, available from Abergavenny Food Festival Booking Office at the Borough Theatre 01873 850805
